Annual Meeting of the Society-Officers Chosen for the Year.

The Horticultural Society held their annual meeting last night at German Hall, John Saul, esq., in the chair, Mr. Warrington Gillingham secretary. Colonel D. S. Curtiss, in a few eloquent remarks, presented a gavel to the president. Mrs. Mary H. Converse was elected a member. The reports of the treasurer, Mr. J. T. C. Clark, and secretary, Mr. Gillingham, were presented, showing the society to be in a prosperous condition. The essay was then read by Mr. William Saunders on "The action of frost on plants, and the theory of protection." The essay was characterized by all the vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Mr. Saunders Mr. J. T. C. Clark then arose, and with much

Chalkley Gillingham, one of the vicepresidents of this society, died on Saturday last, in he seventy-fourth year of his age, at his residence near Accotink. Va., the scene of his horticultural labors and enjoyments. In respect to his memory I propose the following resolutions: "Resolved, That in the decease of Chalkley Gillingham, a vice-president of this society, we recognize and mourn the loss which we, in common with the public, and especially the agricultural community, have sustained of one of its most eminent workers and writers. We would especially remember his spotless character, his Christian virtues, and the universal esteem in which he was ues, and the universal esteem in which he was held for his probity, social qualities, and high cul-ture. We would remember him as a man of strict

The resolutions were warmly seconded by Colonel Curtiss and Mr. John Saul, and were unanimously adented. The society then went into election of officers for the ensuing year, with the following result: John Saul, esq., president; Major T. W. Fowler, first vice-president; Colonel Z. M. P. King, second; Dr. Basil Norris, third; Judge J. T. C. Clark, treasurer; Colonel D. S. Curtiss, corresponding secretary; Warrington Gillingham, recording secretary; executive committee, Messrs, David L Saunders, Simeon Swindles, William Keefe, George Glorious, and J. L. committee was held at their rooms last evening, Mr. J. W. Thompson in the chair, and P. E. O'Con-Colonel Ainger, from the sub-finance committee, reported that they had divided up the work, and, o far as his duties were concerned, he could state that he had been successful. Mr. Truesdell, as a member of the committee, stated that he regretted that he had nothing to report, which could be accounted for, as there was a nisunderstanding, so far as he was concerned at Mr. Warner pleaded want of time to attend to the work that had been mapped out for him, as his business had been very pressing. Mr. Olmstead said that he had been unable to ...$200,000 do anything owing to the demands of his business, and for that reason he wished to tender his resigna-tion as a member of the committee, and hoped that it would be accepted.

THE BADGE PROBLEM. Mr. Willard, from the committee to whom was referred the report of the badge committee, made a report. They recommended that the color of the badge for the press committee be changed from old gold to white; that another badge be added for the veteran committee; that all badges have upon them the coat-of-arms of the United States in gold, and, instead of the names being on them, that each committee will be designated by the color of its badge; that they be three inches, instead of three and a-halfinches wide; that, instead of the bronze medallions, they have a button with George in George in the color of t General Garfield's head upon it.

The amount necessary for the procuring of the adges and buttons will be about $170.
Colonel Corbin moved that the report be accepted, but the appropriation be deferred until another meeting of the committee. Adopted. Colonel Ainger moved that the badges be authorized and the members of the respective committees be notified that they would be on sale at he committee-rooms at twenty-five cents each. General Cresswell, treasurer of the committee, nade a report of the funds on hand. The chair announced that the contracts entered into for the building up to the present time would aggregate about $1,000. The chair also announced the following com-nittees to wait on the members of the subcom-

On motion of Mr. Warner, the chairman of the executive committee was authorized to confer with Licutenant E. V. Greene, chairman of the committee on decorations, in regard to the building of the arches, and see how much money would be reuired for immediate use.

Mr. Somerville stated that the plans of the Lieutenant had been modified, and now, instead of double arches, he would have thirty-eight single arches, which would reduce the expenses fully

Colonel Ainger said that if the extensive plan of the chairman of the decoration committee could not be carried out, he thought that three arches across the Avenue would look well and present an attractive appearance.

The motion was amended by appointing the chairman, Colonel Ainger, and Mr. Warner a committee to confer with Lieutenant Greene, see how his plans can be modified, and ascertain the minimum expenses for decorating the Avenue.

On motion of Colonel Ainger, it was agreed that if the receipts liquidate all the expenses of the inaugural ceremonies, then all the amounts received by subscription shall be returned to the sub-scribers; and if any surplus remains at all, it shall be returned pro rata to the contributors.

A RAILROAD'S TAXES.

What the District is to Get from the Baltito the District government, and to unite with other more and Ohio Company. Yesterday, in the Senate, the joint resolution ratifying the settlement of taxes made by the District Commissioners with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was taken up.

Mr. Whyte, in reply to Mr. Edmunds, explained that the District Committees of the two Houses had succeeded in effecting an adjustment of the dis-pute which had lasted for fourteen years as to the taxes upon the company's property in the District. A compromise resulted in a reduction from $90,000 A compromise resulted in a reduction from $99,000 to $75,000 as the amount payable. At his suggestion the letter of the District Commissioners of last ear on the subject was read.

Mr. Edmunds thought the bill presented one of those not singular speciacles of a great corporation, having power and influence, resisting (as in this instance for twenty-three years) the taxation of its property as the property of private and humble in-dividuals having a natural existence was taxed in the District. He went on to argue that the issue ought to be legally determined and finally disposed of. Fresh litigation would in that way be posed of. Fresh litigation would in that way be avoided.

Mr. Whyte thought the remarks of Mr. Edmunds unfair to the company, as it had not refused to pay what might be found to be a fair and just assessment. Certain things had been assessed that ought not to have been assessed, and this had occasioned the dispute. The settlement was for past differences, and no future complications were anticipated. The original amount involved was $99,600, which, with interest, would amount to $139,000.

Mr. McMillan understood the settlement had Mr. McMillan understood the settlement had been effected by the Commissioners upon a full inderstanding of all the facts of the case, and they had recommended that settlement to Congres Upon this state of facts he would favor the bill.

It is to be regretted that the attendance at the concert given by the Potomac Boat Club at the Congregational Church last night, for the benefit of the poor of the District, was not commensurate with the merits of the entertainment and the object for which it was given. It is rather a sad commentary upon the generosity and public spiritedness of our citizens that for two nights the Opera-House was crowded at $3 a ticket to witness Italian opera, and that last night a concert for the benefit of a most worthy local charity should be so poorly supported. The programme embraced the names of Misses Eva Mills and Minnie Ewan, Messrs. E. B. Hay, H. A. Kohr, E. C. Townsend, Frank Pearson, Professor Bischoff, the Apollo Club, under the direction of Dr. E. William Coleman was examined, and testified that he was present at the time the colored man Johnson was shot and engaged in putting in coal with William Robinson and William Ellis in the house occupied by Dr. Bigelow as an office. When the deceased first came on Fourteenth street it was from the direction of Samson street, and he stopped at the store corner of Fourteenth and P streets. James Waters was standing there with him. They were there about half an hour before the shooting. The witness first saw the defendant come down Fourteenth street on the same side that the deceased was standing. He had four or five persons with him. He did not take notice who was in front. He saw the defendant brush against the deceased. The defendant turned round and asked the deceased, "What in hell was the matter with him." The deceased answered, "There is nothing the matter with me. What in hell is the matter with you?" The defendant sald, "I'll knock your head off." The deceased replied, "No you won't do anything of the kind." The defendant then kicked at the deceased and ran his hand into his pocket. The deceased said, "Don't shoot me." Almost before the words were out of his mouth he was shot. He fell right where he had been stand-ing, with his head against the curb. The crossexamination was short, and developed nothing William Ellis and William Robinson were next examined, and their testimony was corroborative

ALEXANDRIA AFFAIRS.

Professor Pistorio, of Washington, proposes to open a dancing school at McBurney's Hall next Wednesday night. Mr. Charles B. Hamilton, well known in this city, died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. E. H. Janney, a short distance from Alexandria, yesterday afternoon.

I'Mr. George F. Carson, who was badly burned at The Gums ishing shore about a month ago, was brought to his home in this city yesterday. He is much improved, but still in a bad condition. The funeral of the late Mr. Chalkley Gillingham took place from the Friends' Meeting-House at Woodlawn, Fairfax County, last Tuesday afternoon, and was largely attended by the friends of the deceased. The bill appropriating $1,500 for the purpose purchasing the lot situated on the west side of Columbus street, between King and Cameron, and erecting thereon an engine-house for the Colum-bia Steam Fire Company, has been approved by the mayor.

A resolution authorizing the committee on general laws to prepare and report a bill prohibiting the saloon keepers, eigar venders, and others from selling, and harbers from prosecuting their business on Sunday, was presented in the board of alderman by Mr. John B. Smoot last Tuesday night. Mr. David Walton, a respectable citizen of Fairfax County, died last Tuesday afternoon, at his residence, in the "Woodlawn Settlement," a short distance below this city, in the eighty-fifth year of his age. Mr. Walton was stricken with paralysis on Wednesday of last week, and remained in an unconscious condition up to the time of his death.

Bjornson and Grant. The Norwegian poet, Bjornstjerne Bjornson, has written a pleasant letter from Boston to the Vienna Niew Freie Press. General Grant was there at the time, and the poet has words of lofty admiration for the independent and decent manners of the crowd, composed of the rich and the poor, that surrounded the state house and cross there are the poor. rounded the state house and even thronged the halls during the reception in General Grant's honor. The same republican qualities impressed him at a political meeting. The intelligence and manly dignity of the audience electrified him so that "he never in his life felt stronger or so filled with the joy of life." He was surprised to find with the joy of life." He was surprised to find society so abundantly sprinkled with men notable for learning; and ability. It seemed wonderful to him that "so many of the educated men should have a semi-spiritual trait, and possess an ideal, even sentimental, enthusiasm. It was the last thing I expected to find in America." He gives this pen sketch of General Grant: "He issmall and thick-set, with his head bent a little forward. His eyes wander while he is greeting a person but thick-set, with his head bent a little forward. His eyes wander while he is greeting a person, but when he speaks to anyone they rest quietly and steadfastly upon the person spoken to, and then one sees how his strong characteristic is healthy cold reflection, and firmness of grasp, position, look, and mien. Grant is not a great soni, but he is a pure, a strong character, that of all counsels chooses the sounder and holds firmly to interest. chooses the soundest, and holds firmly to it until the purpose becomes the deed."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S ATTEMPT to revive the onebutton glove don't seem to have met with much success, as the shortest glove in the new style is in the six-button length. Accomping to Harper's Battar, one style of summer dress will be without any shoulder-seams, and with the sleeves cut in one piece with the waist, and having one seam only. "THE eagle's wing tunic" is the latest shape in overdresses. It has two long, sharp, sheath-like points in front and two in the back. Very little trimming is used upon these tunies. ONE reason given for the long, loose, and buttonless gloves in vogue at present is that the jeweled rings worn by ladies are so enormously large that they can with difficulty be covered by a tight

In 1852-3 the late Isaac M. Hall was mine host of the Union Hotel, the same building which stands on the corner of Kearney and Merchant streets, and was subseq ently added to the Theatre when that building was sold by Thomas Maguire to the municipality for a city hall. Mr. Hall leased the billiard room to U. S. Grant and T. H. Stevens, which was not run very long nor suc-cessfully by those gentlemen. U. S. Grant's history since that time belongs to the world. T. H. Stevens has not been so prominent, although he is an admiral in the United States navy and commands the Pacific squadron.-San Francisco News Letter.
